

Belgians Halt Hun Attempts to Drive in Lines from Sea

Although the retirement east of Ypres was to be expected for strategic reasons, the fact that it has been carried out has caused sentimental regrets. Langemarch, Passchendaele and Poelcapelle, which Berlin reports the Germans have occupied, were scenes of desperate encounters in the British hard won advance of last summer and fall when they gained the entire Messines-Passchendaele ridge.

Correspondents report the British are retiring to prepared positions along or close to the line from which the offensive was launched in 1917. This would place the new line probably near Boesinghe, Wietje, Hooge and hill 60, southeast of Zillebeke, and about two miles east of Ypres. Berlin's official communication attempts to make it appear that the Germans gained towns on the old Flanders battlefield after fighting.

REAP HARVEST OF DEATH

The British retirement was carried out on Monday and British guns reaped a heavy harvest of death in the enemy ranks when the Germans penetrated the abandoned positions.

On Wednesday the Germans gained no new ground from east of Merville to Wytchaele, but were compelled to use large forces in recapturing Wytchaele and Meteren. The German pressure east of Hazebrouck shows the enemy still desires the capture of this base in the probable hope of forcing a further retirement in the Ypres sector.

Southeast of Kemmel hill, on the northern battle front, the Germans pressed back the English line slightly, but the situation was restored by a counter attack, the London war office announces. During the night there was no change in the British front.

In the Bailleul sector the Germans made three attacks before noon yesterday, and in each case suffered a complete repulse.

OFFICE REPORTS NO CHANGE

The Germans opened a heavy bombardment of the British positions on the southwestern part of the Lys battle front between Locon and Robecq, during the night. The bombardment was still in progress at dawn today.

The text of the London statement reads:

"There has been no change on the British front during the night.

"The hostile artillery has shown great activity on the southern portion of the Lys battle front from Givenchy to east of Robecq. A heavy bombardment of our position between Locon and Robecq was still continuing at dawn.

"Local attacks were repulsed by our troops yesterday evening in the Merris sector.

"More detailed accounts of the fighting of yesterday on the forest of Nieppe-Wytchaele front established the severity of the enemy losses. Southeast of Kemmel hill the German infantry attacked in three waves and at one point pressed back our line slightly. In this locality the situation had been repulsed at all points. In the Bailleul sector the enemy attacked three times before midday, and in each case suffered a complete repulse.

"Our line yesterday evening was reported intact on the whole front."

"After a preliminary bombardment a strong German detachment attempted to advance last night near Corbeny, on the Aisne front," says the Paris war office.

The Paris statement follows: "In the region of Corbeny the French caught under their fire and dispersed a strong German detachment which attempted to approach the French lines after artillery preparation.

"The Germans undertook several raids in the Champagne and on the right bank of the Meuse, especially to the east of Carrières wood and near Damloup. All the enemy's efforts were repulsed, and prisoners remained in our hands.

"Northwest of Rois, in Lorraine, we succeeded in several incursions into the German lines, and we took a certain number of prisoners."

LIBERTY LOAN TOTAL IS NOW $313,200,000

New York, April 18.—Liberty loan subscriptions in the Second federal reserve district for the first nine days of the campaign totalled $313,200,000, it was announced today. The average is $34,800,000 a day. The district's quota is $90,000,000, requiring an average daily total of $36,000,000. The New York committee desires to reach a total of $1,500,000,000 in subscriptions, and to do this must bring in more than $175,000,000 a day.

The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey has subscribed $4,000,000, of which $1,000,000 will be credited to New York and $3,000,000 to other districts. A $5,000,000 subscription was announced by the American Sugar Refining Co., half to be placed in this district and the rest through districts in which the company's refineries are located.

NEW ENGLANDERS AMONG WOUNDED

Killed—T. E. Gordon, Charlestown, Mass. Died—W. Morrison, Rahway, N. J. Missing—J. P. Dent, Bellefonte, Pa. Wounded—S. Williamson, New Bedford, Mass.; A. Ode, Lawrence, Mass.; H. Holt, Nashua, N. H.

SCHWAB LEAVES N. Y.

New York, April 18.—Charles M. Schwab left here today for Washington to assume his new duties as director general of the emergency fleet corporation. He said he had not yet decided who he would select as his aides.

DETAILED TO WAR DEPT.

Washington, April 18.—Lieut. Col. John Howard, retired, was detailed by the war department as professor of military science and tactics at Columbia University, New York city.

Sprinkle house plants with a whisk broom, or, better still, spray them with a bath spray in the bathtub.

TWO IMPORTANT TOPICS DEBATED AT CONFERENCE

Church Heads Open Meeting at New Britain Today—Service for the Dead.

WAR SERVICE AND THE MISSION FIELDS

Accommodations Made For Delegate Body of More Than 750 Members.

New Britain, April 18.—War service and the mission field are the two important matters to which the New York East conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, opening here today, will give its special attention. Trinity church, the Rev. Warren F. Cook, pastor, is the entertaining parish, while other churches have been made available for meetings of the various conference bodies.

There was every prospect of a large delegate body, much larger than usual owing to increasing activity in the churches due to the war and its phases of home work. The accommodations were for a delegate body of more than 750. Bishop L. B. Wilson will preside at the general meetings and Bishop James W. Bashford of China and Bishop W. H. Oldham of South America will take part in the interest of the centenary fund of $50,000,000 for the missions of the denomination.

One of the features of the district superintendents' reports will be the statistics showing the number of men of the conference who have responded to the call to the colors. The New Haven district embraces several communities in which the making of munitions requires tens of thousands of employees.

As is customary the opening session of the conference was a communion service followed by the memorial service for clergymen who have died during the year.

CENTRAL HEADS WILL DISSOLVE UKRAINE RADA

Washington, April 18.—In carrying out their plan to make the Ukraine an Austro-German colony, the Central powers intend to dissolve the Ukraine Rada and to install an Austro-German government, a report reaching the State Department today said.

The Germans already have cut off completely communications between the Ukraine and Russia. It has been established, said the report, that native officials are being succeeded by Austro-Germans, and that Austro-German money is forced into circulation throughout the Ukraine.

The latest dispatches on the situation contain the statement that the arrest of all Entente officers in the province has been ordered.

STATE COUNCIL IS PLANNING A WAR CONVENTION

Hartford, April 18.—At the request of the Council of National Defense the Connecticut State Council of Defense will hold a war convention and mass meeting in Hartford on May 11. Representatives of war bureaus and town committees of the council from all parts of the state will be expected to attend. The council of national defense will send speakers. Men prominent in war work and government affairs will be included in this list.

There is a possibility that Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane will be among the speakers. It was announced today that Major Rutledge Smith, chairman of the Tennessee State Council of Defense, would be here. The Connecticut council has appointed as a committee to arrange for the conference Joseph W. Alsop, Major Howard A. Giddings and Charles A. Goodwin.

CANADIAN GUNS ACTIVELY SHELL GERMAN POSITION

Canadian Headquarters, April 18.—(By the Canadian Press)—All night long Canadian guns have been active against the enemy positions, shelling hostile batteries, routes, railroads and dumps, while time after time hostile infantry positions, assembly areas and communications have been swept with a harassing fire. Early today the Canadians carried out a projector gas bombardment against the enemy positions, to which the Huns replied with gas shelling.

BELFAST SCENE OF DRAFT RIOT

London, April 18.—Rioting attended the breaking up of an anti-conscription meeting in Belfast yesterday, says a dispatch to the Daily News. Revolvers were used and baton charges were made by the police, who were pelted with paving stones. Virtually every plate glass window in the street was smashed.

Fifteen thousand persons participated in the meeting, which was called by the Labor party. The trouble was precipitated, the dispatch says, by 200 ship yard workers.

Secretary Baker says "the American soldier in France is making good."

HUN PROPAGANDA EFFECTIVE AMONG SCANDINAVIANS

THREE DEPARTMENTS HOUSED IN ONE SPOT

Exploits of Army Graphically Illustrated by Word and Picture.

Stockholm, April 18.—German propaganda in Sweden and other Scandinavian nations no longer is ill-directed or inefficient, in the opinion of the statesmen of the countries in which it operates. On the contrary, it challenges even unwilling admiration in Sweden for its completeness and effectiveness.

In the early days of the war the Entente powers and America extracted considerable amusement from German methods of propaganda for the reason that they seemed to be based on an almost absolute failure to understand the psychology of the non-Germanic peoples.

Undertaken by earlier failures the Germans have kept at work here and have organized a system of propaganda which is regarded as tireless, intelligent and, without a doubt, effective.

The organization centres around three undertakings, all organized by Germans but, in accordance with Swedish law, directed by Sweden. These are the magazine Jorden Rundt, (The World Around), The "Picture Central," and the "Polar Star Biograph."

All three undertakings are housed in the same quarters. The exploits of the German army are graphically illustrated by word and picture and cinema films. Gigantic maps, with events kept up almost to the hour, show the progress of the German armies. The newest bulletins are displayed. Visitors are loaded with pamphlets and books, some of them of such character that they form permanent additions to a reference library.

Whenever a German soldier does some individual act of kindness, operators are there to record it and the Swedish patrons of the Polar Star have opportunity to admire it.

Two large printing firms turn out vast quantities of pamphlets, with which the Swedes are inundated. The German legation has trained journalists on its staff, and Baron Lucius, the minister, is himself a keen, wide-awake individual, fully alive to the value of printers' ink and alert to seize every opportunity to make propaganda or to explain anything that needs explanation. As an instance of this may be cited the fact that, some weeks ago, when the morning papers published Trotsky's expose of Germany's attitude toward the Aland Islands, the noon papers of the same day contained a column-long article by Baron Lucius, full of clever country and forming, for the uncritical reader, a complete answer to Trotsky.

This is but one of scores of similar instances. Lucius' relations to the press—and not merely to the pro-German press—are most friendly, and he is always sure of a sympathetic hearing, whether the other party is in agreement with him or not.

To dam this flood of propaganda the allied powers offer comparatively little. Since America entered the war an effort has been made from Washington to secure adequate publication in Sweden of important speeches by President Wilson and other leaders, and reports of important decisions of different bodies, progress or recruiting, etc. These efforts, and particularly as regards speeches, are fore-dropped to failure by the fact that the speeches are called too late.

President Wilson's speeches have reached Sweden from two to four days after summaries of them have been received here. No Swedish editor, after having used a 500-word summary will, half a week later, devote much space to the text of the same speech.

Fertilizer should be used even late. Weather and wartime conditions have so delayed transportation that now seems certain that many cars of fertilizer will reach their destination after the time of planting the crop on which it were to have been used.

It will not be wise to fail to use the fertilizer. The farmer cannot afford to tie up his money until another year, the country needs the increased food which fertilizer will produce.

For corn, oats, and potatoes late applications are entirely practical, and may be used as late as three weeks or a month after planting with excellent results. The fertilizer is simply broadcast over the field. Cultivation of corn and potatoes works it down to the feeding roots of the plants. With oats it acts in much the same way as a top-dressing on wheat.

THREE THOUSAND MEN ON STRIKE

New Glasgow, N. S., April 18.—Three thousand men, mainly steel workers, were idle today in general industrial strike that threatened to spread and include 2,000 miners employed in nearby collieries. The strikers demand higher wages, improved working conditions and full recognition for the Federation of Labor. War work is affected by the strike.

An offer by the government of a board of conciliation to settle the strike was refused by the federation.

HARTFORD'S QUOTA IS "OVER THE TOP"

Hartford, April 18.—Figures given out here at noon today indicated that Hartford had bought about $10,000,000 of Liberty bonds. This is about $2,000,000 over the city's quota.

REDDING

(Special to The Times.)

Redding, April 18.—Local dairymen who mostly send their milk to the Farmers' Dairy Co. in Bridgeport and who are also interested in the company to the amount of several thousand dollars as shareholders were well represented at the meeting held in Newtown on Monday for the purpose of considering the state of the company's finances. Among all the shareholders and milk suppliers anxiety had been caused by the recent arrest of Manager Coburn on the charge of embezzling the company's funds. Statements made at Monday's meeting were to the effect that experts engaged in examining the company's books reported a shortage of $4,800 which sum might be somewhat increased by further disclosures. It was further stated that while the company remained solvent the loss of funds by wrongful diversion of funds sharpened its need for additional working capital, a need which had been a hampering influence ever since business was started. This lack of an adequate cash reserve had been given as explanatory of the company's delay in sending pay checks to the supply dairymen. Although supposed to be sent every two weeks the payment intervals generally extended to a month or more and one of the local creditors had received nothing for nine weeks. Another local dairymen was a creditor for more than $1,000. One gratifying incident of Monday's proceedings was the action of the company's officials in settling all outstanding milk accounts up to March 9.

The sentiment of the shareholders in attendance was that they could not afford to permit the company to go to the wall for lack of the money needed to keep it a going concern, because, if it went out of business, they would again be at the mercy of the private wholesalers who previously constituted a monopoly and fixed prices to suit themselves. Consequently the call for additional subscriptions to the stock resulted in the pledging of between $3,000 and $4,000 before the meeting adjourned. Considerable additions to this sum are expected. Those who sought information regarding the alleged embezzlement were informed that Manager Coburn had drawn money by check from the company's funds and failed to account for it. He was prominently identified with the Bridgeport Dairy Co., a company formed for the retail distribution of milk, and the supposition was that the company's financing. His trial on the pending charge is yet to be held and meanwhile he is out on bond.

Not much progress was made with the local Liberty Loan campaign last week owing to the bad weather. Redding's quota is only $10,500, instead of $25,000 as was at first supposed. In the present drive this town is included in the Bethel district, as each district must have within it at least one bank, but all subscriptions by residents of this town will go to Redding's credit if made through the Bethel bank or any member of the local committee. The committee is composed of H. S. Barnes, Rev. Raymond Cunningham, Michael Conery, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bradley, C. O. Perry, W. C. Sanford, J. B. Sanford, L. W. Warner, Rev. W. S. Woolworth, W. H. Hill, Charles H. Ward, A. G. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sanford, Miss Mary Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meehan, Dr. W. C. Deming, Henry Hawthorne, John Muenich and Mr. and Mrs. George Patton. Members of this committee will gladly wait upon anyone expressing a desire to subscribe.

Eight citizens attended the special town meeting last Saturday afternoon and after slight discussion voted a regular tax rate of twelve mills. This will raise about $21,000 while the estimated expenditures are approximately about $1,000 more. However, the $5,800 raised by the special 3 mill tax to be collected in June will yield a slight surplus. The meeting's particular requirement, thereby lessening by so much the current deficiency. It was figured that $2,000 called for by the next job of State road building would not be called for until next year. The sum of $50 was appropriated for war work and the selection were voted discretionary power to provide service flags for the Ridge and the Center.

Responses received by the committee who are arranging for the food exhibition to be held at the Mark Twain library on Wednesday afternoon of next week indicated a wide-spread interest and disposition to operate among the ladies of the town. It is assured that the contributions of war time cookery will be many and varied and cannot fail to provide much useful information. An instructive lecture will be delivered at 3:30 by Miss Merrill of the Center church, and a corn and sandwich will be served. The premiums awarded to the more successful exhibitors will consist of war and thrift stamps.

At the Center Congregational church last Saturday afternoon and again on Sunday evening before a congregation gathered for a union service. Miss Law, for 18 years a missionary in Syria, made an appeal for the suffering Syrians and Armenians. An accompaniment of children of the Sunday school attired in the costumes of these Eastern races. The collections realized about $50. Some 40 years ago Miss Law's father was pastor of the Center church and subsequently he was chaplain in the Tombs prison, New York.

What the project attributed to a club of New York college women for a season of active farming work in this town is reality and not merely a beautiful dream was proven by the appearance of an advance guard of the devoted band last Monday morning at the Methodist Deaconess' Home about a mile above West Redding station. A tract had been plowed in preparation for their coming and this they set to work upon with rakes, hoes and other planting implements. If their courage and energy measure up to their plans a party of from ten to fifteen will continue on the job during the summer.

The rifle team of the local Home Guard competed in a battalion match which opened at the Danbury armory on Tuesday evening and of the three teams engaged made the second best score. The three other teams shot on the following evening.

L. T. De Saules, who came from Boston a few days ago to take charge of the Junior department of the Sanford school, left on Sunday in answer to a summons to the Princeton aviation camp.

The engagement of his predecessor at the school was also cut short by a call to military service. The presentation of Mrs. Florence Sampson for violation of the school attendance statute, has been dropped by the Danbury authorities after dragging along for about two months.

OUR NEWTOWN NEWS LETTER

Newtown, April 18.—Mamert Wolcowski of Island avenue, was again the victim of a night raiding thief. Early Sunday morning his bedroom was entered and a theft of his roll of $50 was successfully carried off. His trousers were carried from his bedroom and were found in the back hall, minus this amount. His gold watch in his vest was not disturbed, though it hung with the trousers. This is the second time in less than a year that Mr. Wolcowski has been visited by this clever nocturnal intruder. The detectives called into the case have found no clues.

Reports from the peach orchards on high grounds, show the buds not seriously injured by the severe winter weather last winter, nor the late spring frosts, but the indications are that the outlook is not so favorable for orchards on the low lands. Newtown Curtis tested several trees in his different fields, and they all opened into magnificent sprays under the influence of water, heat and sunlight. He is the largest producer in this section. Charles G. Meeker, however, is pessimistic as to his orchard, and prophesies a fruitless year on the lowlands. Other orchards are testing sprays from their trees, and will report later.

William Conger, attached to the Aviation Corps of the National Army, is now in England and his letters show him to be in fine fettle.

The seniors of the High school will present their annual class play on June 5. George Lundgren, the carpenter, has taken up his work again with Contractor T. F. Brown. During the winter season he made extensive alterations in the interior of his dwelling house, consisting of a grand staircase, paneled and grained walls and ceilings in hard woods which are ornate in the extreme. Besides the double doors and front and back parlors, he has connected an addition which besides providing for the customary work of the household, has finely arranged work shop for cabinet making in which art he excels.

John F. Bradley, who has been in Brooklyn for treatment of his eyes, is reported to have fully recovered from the injury.

Mrs. Mary Hurd, who spent the winter with friends in Danbury, will not return to Sanday Hook this summer, but will go to the vicinity of the Hog Island shipyards to live, where her son, Austin Hurd, holds an important position under the government.

Arthur Beard has gone into the poultry business extensively, and now cares for over 400 young chickens in his up to date henery on Gas street. He expects to add to his equipment and flocks.

Birdseye Parsons has sold 25 acres of land on the southern slope of Mount Pleasant to Dr. W. H. Kiernan, whose homestead it bounds on the north. Consideration not given. Whoopingcough is prevalent all over town, and this disease following after the siege of mock measles, has wrought havoc in the school attendance.

Farmers and gardeners all over town are worried over the seed problem. Guaranteed or tested flint corn is held at $5 to $150 per bushel, while the potato seed will not be warranted by any seller. There are, it is estimated, over 5,000 bushels of surplus potatoes in this section which are offered for sale on the quiet by holders at the pre-war time price of 75 cents a bushel with no takers. Sympathy is wasted on most of these profiteers at the outlook for many of them refused $2 per bushel on the field at the digging season. However, it is hoped that such disappointments as high prices will not lead the farmers to reduce the acreage of this important vegetable this year. It is his patriotic duty to plant fully and sell fairly, and the consumer will assuredly support the farmers who practice a square deal.

Torrington, April 18.—Dominic Gaetano, a Winsted cobbler, was held in bonds of $1,000 in the Borough Court today for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of bigamy.

without a hearing. Road repair work was started by Contractor Banks last week and is now progressing actively. Ex-Selectman Sullivan has again charge of the work on this side of the town.

A service flag with 45 stars has been flung out at the Sanford school. The stars show that about 90 per cent of the school's graduates have entered the service.

Mrs. Richard Rider of the west side received a fracture of the wrist a few days since as the result of a fall.

W. C. Sanford and Charles Sanford have been appointed appraisers on the estate of the late George Wheeler of Bethel.

H. S. Barnes has sold most of his live stock and expects to soon practically abandon his large poultry business.

Mr. Burtis of Londontown has sold his horse and purchased a small auto truck.

Messrs. Underhill, Archer and Frost have returned to their former jobs at L. O. Peck's farm on Sunset Hill. Oscar Hawley of West Redding is nursing a painful injury caused by accidentally running a pitchfork tine through one of his hands.

On account of their auto getting stalled in the mud of the Hopewell woods road last Friday evening the ministers of the Danbury fire department were two hours late in their arrival at Grange hall on the Ridge. The large audience patiently awaited their coming however, and were rewarded by an excellent performance.

"No German allowed to be spoken in this store" is a sign displayed in Muenich's store at the Ridge and under this manifesto is an exhortation to buy War Thrift Stamps. Their author, although the grandson of a Prussian field marshal, has no use for present-day Prussianism.
